DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

- 1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:
  - The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.
- 2. Claims 18, 19, and 30 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.
- 3. Claims 19 is indefinite for the lack of antecedent basis for the phrase "wherein removing fibers is practiced by...." Claim 18, from which 19 depends, recites "by removing material from the substrate." Thus, there is a lack of antecedent basis for "removing fibers." Additionally, claim 18 is indefinite because it is unclear if the material is removed from the substrate or from the first material (i.e., fibers) attached to said substrate.
- 4. Claim 30 is indefinite for the lack of antecedent basis of the phrase "the second textile material." Claim 26, from which claim 30 depends, recites "a second material" rather than a second textile material.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

5. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Art Unit: 1771

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

6. Applicant claims an article of manufacture, such as a floor covering, a wall hanging, a wall covering, a furniture covering, bedding, apparel, a table cloth, a napkin, a towel, or a wash cloth. Applicant also claims a floor covering, such as a carpet, an area carpet, a broadloom carpet, rug, area rug, or mat. Both the article of manufacture and the floor covering comprise (a) a first region of a first material having an image and (b) at least one second region of a second material having at least some information related to the image on the first region. The information may be textual, numerical, symbolic, or graphical. Additionally, the article of manufacture and the floor covering may further comprise a pocket.

The first region of the floor covering may include a void wherein the second region is positioned within said void. The first and second regions of the floor covering may be mounted on a common backing, while the second region may be mounted by means of an adhesive or stitching. The first region of the article of manufacture may include a perimeter wherein the second region is positioned within said perimeter. Additionally, the article of manufacture may include a plurality of second regions. Furthermore, the first material may be a tufted, woven, or nonwoven fabric, while the second material may be a woven or nonwoven fabric, wherein the second material may be different from the first material. The information in the article of manufacture may be provided as needlework, such as embroidery, cross-stitch, or crocheting.

In one particular embodiment, applicant claims a tufted carpet comprising (a) a primary backing, (b) a first region of tufts in said primary backing, wherein said tufts form an image, (c) a second region having little or no tufts, and (d) a textile material providing at least some information related to said image mounted in the second region. The textile material may be a woven or nonwoven fabric. The information may be textual, numerical, symbolic, or graphical. Said information may be provided by needlework, such as embroidery or cross-stitch, in said textile material.

Applicant also claims a method of making said article of manufacture or said floor covering. Said method includes the steps of (a) providing a first region of a first material having an image and (b) providing a second region of a second material having at least some information related to said image. The first material may be in the form of fibers, in particular, fibers tufted into a substrate or primary backing. The second material may be a textile or a non-textile material. The step of providing the second material is done by creating a void in the first region and mounting the second region in said void. Removing material from the substrate, such as cutting or shaving fibers, may create the void.

7. Claims 26-28, 33, 34, 36-41, 45-47, 50, and 53 are rejected under 35 USC 102(b) as being anticipated by each of Des. 381,211 issued to Aries et al., Des. 387,567 issued to Queen, and Des. 431,909 issued to Henry et al.

Claims 26-28, 33, 36-41, 45-47, 50, and 53 are rejected under 35 USC 102(e) as being anticipated by Des. 448,701 issued to DiGirolamo, Jr.

Aries, Queen, Henry, and DiGirolamo each teach an article of manufacture (i.e., wall display) comprising a first region of a first material having an image (i.e., a record, a patent, a medical certificate, and a photo, respectively) and a second region of a second material providing information relating to the first region (i.e., name plates having textual information). In each case, the first material is mounted on a substrate or backing and the second material is positioned within a void of the first region. Thus, it can be seen that claims 26-28, 33, 36-41, 45-47, 50, and 53 are anticipated by the cited prior art.

8. Claims 35 and 48 are rejected under 35 USC 103(b) as being anticipated by the cited Henry design patent.

Henry shows a plurality of second regions (i.e., name plates). Thus, claims 35 and 48 are also anticipated by Henry.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

- 9. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:
  - (a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.
- 10. Claims 1-18, 20-23, 26-30, 33-43, and 45-53 are rejected under 35 USC 103(a) as being unpatentable over US 5,461,748 issued to Koiduka.

Koiduka discloses a floor mat having a mat body or substrate which has tufts of pile attached thereto (Figure 1 and col. 2, lines 24-28). The perimeter of the mat has a name plate attached thereto (abstract and Figure 1). The name plate and the thermoplastic resin fixing element (i.e., adhesive) may be embedded in a void of the mat backing so as to lie within the same plane thereof (col. 3, lines 28-31). Thus, Koiduka teaches the presently claimed invention with the exception that the first region of the tufted mat has an image thereon. However, it is well-known in the art of floor mats to include images such as "welcome," a company or school logo, an esthetically pleasing picture or design, etc. Applicant is hereby given Official Notice of this fact. The examiner notes that the facts asserted to be common and well-known are capable of instant and unquestionable demonstration as being well-known. To adequately traverse such a finding, an applicant must specifically point out the supposed errors in the examiner's action, which would include stating why the noticed fact is not considered to be common knowledge or well-known in the art. Thus, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to employ an image on the tufted mat of Koiduka. Motivation to do so would be to personalize the floor mat or to provide an advertisment. Therefore, claims 1-18, 26-29, 33, 34, 36-42, 45-47, 50, 51, and 53 are rejected as being obvious over the cited Koiduka patent.

With respect to claims 35 and 48, although Koiduka does not explicitly teach a plurality of name plates, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to employ more than one name plate to suit a particular design and/or advertisement. Thus, claims 35 and 48 are rejected also.

With respect to claim 20-23, 52, 30, and 43, although Koiduka does not explicitly teach a name plates made of a textile, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to employ name plate of a textile material. It has been held to be within the general skill of a worker in the art to select a known material on the basis of its suitability for the intended use. In re Leshin, 125 USPQ 416. Thus, claims 20-23, 52, 30, and 43 are rejected also.

Similarly, claim 49 is rejected since it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to employ a woven or nonwoven material as the carpet layer of Koiduka since woven and nonwoven carpets are well known in the art and it has been held to be within the general skill of a worker in the art to select a known material on the basis of its suitability for the intended use.

Art Unit: 1771

Allowable Subject Matter

11. Claims 19, 24, 25, 31, 32, 44, and 54-56 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

- 12. With respect to claim 19, although it is well known in the art of carpets to create a void by cutting or shaving, it would not have been obvious to modify the Koiduka reference in this manner since Koiduka's second region is placed in the peripheral region where there are no carpet tufts. In doing so, Koiduka can firmly attach a name plate as needed by order. Thus, the cited prior art does not teach or fairly suggest creating a method of making a floor covering by providing a substrate, attaching a first material, providing an image on said first material, providing at least one void in a region of the first material, providing a second material having information related to the image, and mounting the second material in the void, wherein said void is created by removal of tufted fibers by cutting or shaving.
- 13. With respect to claims 24, 25, 31, 32, 44, there is not proper motivation to modify the cited Koiduka invention to provide a name plate which is made of needlework. Thus, said claims contain allowable subject matter since the prior art does not teach or fairly suggest providing the information in the second material by needlework.
- 14. With respect to claims 54-56, there is not proper motivation to modify the cited Koiduka invention to provide a pocket. Thus, said claims contain allowable subject matter since the prior art does not teach or fairly suggest providing a pocket to a floor covering, tufted carpet, or article of manufacture as presently recited in claims 1, 20, and 26, respectively.
